CHECKSIDE

Technical Exploration Geologist

- Emerging Australian mining company
- Targeting first production by end 2012
- Play a pivotal role in exploration activities

Mutiny Gold is an emerging Australian mining company focused on becoming a significant, low cost gold – copper producer with multiple mines.

Mutiny Gold's immediate focus is the unique Deflector Deposit where it is currently conducting resource extension and infill drilling programs as part of a Definitive Feasibility Study. Mutiny Gold will also enjoy strong growth from the exploration and development of its gold, copper and nickel tenements.

With finance and hedge facilities recently announced, Mutiny Gold is looking for a Technical Exploration Geologist.

This senior opportunity will see you play a pivotal role in exploration activities with the opportunity to interpret geological data, identify targets and generate projects. The initial focus will see you apply your knowledge and experience to the company's vast Gullewa tenements.

This position is Perth based with campaign / field travel as required.

This role presents a rare opportunity to join an emerging producer from the early project stage and to make a significant contribution to the company as it transitions to producer. We are looking for high calibre applicants who meet most or all of the following criteria:

- 10+ years post graduate experience
- Geology degree
- Significant exposure to greenfields exploration
- An inquisitive and open-minded approach
